

HOSPICE VOLUNTEERS CREATE “GUARDIAN ANGELS” TO LESSEN ANXIETY FOR HOSPICE PATIENTS

(From Left) Hospice of Citrus County Volunteers Karen Lowe, Tiffany Peri and Betti Paschell create lovely “Guardian Angels” to be distributed to Hospice of Citrus County patients by their caregivers. The Guardian Angels are a great comfort to patients and their families. They are used by all members of hospice teams to aid in efforts to comfort and care for patients and loved ones by helping to calm patients down and lessen anxiety and fear.
